

“HEIRESS ”

She was born with nothing. Wandering aimlessly throughout the Earth, grumbling everyday about how unfair the world was to her. Her Angel, tired of watching her live her life unhappy and unfulfilled, came down to Earth to warn her,

“Girl! Do you not know that your time here is short? Why do you walk the Earth, wasting your potential by doing nothing?!”

The girl replied, “I was born with nothing! I have no friends, no family, no valuables, no real home. I was born with nothing so I do nothing. What do you suppose I do?”

“My darling” her angel replied, “Everyone on this Earth can be your friend! You want a family? Make one. And why do you say you have no valuables or home? Doesn’t the Earth provide you everything you need to achieve your desires? You were born in the only habitable planet in a galaxy with trillions of stars; is this Earth not your home?”

The girl looked at her angel, puzzled “But...why do I feel like I have nothing?”

“My child you have been misguided by the world” her Angel said, “You do not have nothing! You have everything!”

‘You have inherited the world.’
